PROFILE

A determined and highly organized software engineering graduate student currently seeking for entry level opportunities as a frontend developer, machine learning engineer and a data scientist to get hands on experience in the industry. I am currently enrolled to the University of Calgary with an overall GPA in my first semester of 3.9/4.0 with projects in Traditional Machine Learning and Deep Learning, making relational databases with MySQL, Creating Machine Learning Models with Apache Spark and Web Applications with ReactJS. Completing this program in April 2023 will give me more necessary skills to stand out in a job application.
